

NEFF AND BROWN TO SETTLE OLD SCORES

10 ROUND BOUT BEFORE PHOENIX A. C. TONIGHT TO DECIDE MANY ISSUES

Men End Training In Preparation for Gruelling Match—Official Weights Will Be Announced at 6 o'clock This Afternoon—Neff Must Do 133 Pounds—Semi-Final Over Six Round Route Will Bring Together Casey Smith and Frankie Monroe, Both Local Boys

Old scores will be decided in the ring of the Phoenix Athletic club in Arcadia hall tonight when Chet Neff of Seattle, and Young Brown of Los Angeles, go ten-rounds in the main event of a three-card program. The men are lightweights, Neff agreeing to weigh in at 131 pounds at 6 o'clock this afternoon. Young Brown will tip the scale at about 128 or 129.

Neff and Brown have long been keen rivals in the ring and the fact that Neff recently outpointed Leo Houck, Neff's closest friend, has not served to make the two boys more friendly.

This bout is expected to be one of the hardest fought ever staged in the southwest. Both will be out to win in the shortest period of time and the fact that both use the same style in the ring should be sufficient evidence that the bout will be a bit bang affair as long as it lasts.

In a first meeting between these boys, Neff was credited with a newspaper decision in what Los Angeles boxing fans claim was one of the greatest matches ever held in that city without a single exception.

When the going for the first round rang, Neff and Brown went to the center of the ring and began an exchange of blows that did not end until the four rounds were ended. It was a wonderful exhibition, coast sport critics declared in review of the match the following day.

In securing a return match between these two boys, the Phoenix Athletic club is said to have been exceptionally fortunate. Such a match in Los Angeles, it is stated, would draw a capacity house at Jack Doyle's Vernon Athletic club.

Neff will have a weight advantage of about three pounds when he enters the ring tonight. He will probably weigh close to 133 pounds when he steps through the ropes. Brown will not weigh more than 130 pounds at the most.

There won't be any backing around the ring in tonight's final event. Phoenix fans have assured themselves of that fact after frequent visits to the respective training camps. Both are aggressive, rugged performers, always willing to mix it and adept at inflicting, at which style they both excel.

In fact, it was Neff's infighting that gave him a victory over Tommy Carter in Miami about two months ago. He kept in close to the El Paso boy and tipped in short jabs to the body and face that resulted in his being awarded the verdict.

Neff will be aided by two champions tonight. Frankie Dolan, who formerly performed under the name of Frankie Murphy, is the flyweight champion of the Pacific coast. He has met every 110 pound boy in the west and has yet to suffer defeat. He will act as Neff's chief second in tonight's event.

Kidd Lewis, champion 135-pound boy of Camp Pike, will also be in Neff's corner tonight. Both of these boys have been aiding the Seattle lad in rounding into tiptop shape.

Brown will have his brother, Frankie Monroe, as his chief aid. Other handlers will also be on hand for any assistance.

The semi-final event between

CASEY SMITH

His true name is Joe DeSoto and he is a native Phoenix boy, having been born and raised in this city. He first secured fame as a fighter with Uncle Sam's overseas forces and later as lightweight champion of the Seventh army corps. He will make his ring debut in the city of his nativity tonight at Arcadia hall in a six-round bout with Frankie Monroe. The boys are featherweights.

Frankie Monroe of Los Angeles and Casey Smith, lightweight champion of the Seventh army corps, is another bout on the program that is attracting wide attention. Monroe, recognized as one of the clearest featherweights in California, has had a varied experience in the ring. During his four-year stay in the squared circle, he has met three champions, one of whom was a world's champion. This latter one was Kid Williams, former flyweight champion of the world.

Casey Smith, a former Phoenix boy, attained considerable success as a boxer while overseas and finally succeeded in winning the light weight championship of his division. Since returning to the United States, however, he has lost considerable poundage and is now performing in the featherweight class. He will do 123 pounds at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Monroe.

Both Smith and Monroe are native Phoenix boys although they are not acquainted. They will meet for the first time tonight when they enter the ring of the Phoenix Athletic club.

A four-round opener between Kid Nicks and Leonard Pina will round out the program. The first event will start at 9 o'clock sharp.

Bill Corpein will act as third man in the ring for both the semi-final and the final.

Tickets for the match will be continued on sale at the different downtown headquarters until 6 o'clock this afternoon.
